Cooper loves to play with his canine buddies!

The thing Cooper loves most in the world is food, snacks, and sleeping on your feet!!! He also loves things to chew on (partly because he's getting his adult teeth in), so we give him a lot of ice cubes and Nylabones and he really seems to enjoy them. He is a great 'people dog', meaning that he loves to be with you! wherever you are in the house. I've had him out running with me and my "pack" and he does pretty good on a leash once you get going. He's not constantly pulling or trying to get away from you at all. At night he sleeps in our bed between me and my husband. He has never, not even once, had an accident at nighttime or during the day when he is crated while we are at work.

Cooper is a really great dog, and it will be very difficult for us when he goes to his "forever home." Unfortunately, our city has an ordinance about the number of dogs that you are permitted to own, and 2 is our limit, otherwise we would keep him in a heartbeat!!!
